Managing safety during property dismantling works

You may notice workers on site wearing additional personal protective equipment as part of dismantling works. These are specialised hygienists trained to safely handle any hazardous materials that may be present. We engage hygienists as a precautionary measure to protect workers, the community, wildlife, and the environment.

Hazardous materials identified on our work sites are carefully managed in line with the project's strict Environmental Performance Requirements and the relevant legislation. This includes safe disposal according to Environment Protection Authority (EPA) requirements.

Our community engagement team will be available to assist residents during the works. Safety is our priority and we ask for your assistance by following all instructions and signage.

We appreciate your patience and understanding throughout these works.

Health and safety

The health and safety of our workforce and community remains our top priority. Physical distancing measures are in place as well as increased hygiene practices. For more information about coronavirus (COVID-19) visit coronavirus.vic.gov.au
