

Works notice

Opening of Albert Road's southern connection to St Kilda Road

Albert Road

19 September 2024

The Metro Tunnel Project will soon reopen the Albert Road southern connection to St Kilda Road.

When we'll be working

- This section of road will be reopened at 1pm, Thursday 19 September 2024

The timing of work may change depending on weather.

What we'll be doing

- Repositioning temporary fencing adjacent to 1 Albert Road (The Domain)
- Reopening the one-way Albert Road connection to St Kilda Road, south of the Albert Road and St Kilda Road intersection.

What to be aware of

- Following the opening, Albert Road's southern connection to St Kilda Road will function as follows:
 - Two way access between Albert Road and 1 Albert Road (The Domain) driveway
 - One-way access from 1 Albert Road (The Domain) driveway to St Kilda Road
- This section of road is a shared zone by both vehicles and pedestrians, with right of way for pedestrians
- Upon operation of the station, the pull in bay adjacent to the station lifts will function as a short-term disabled drop off bay
- In the interim, this drop off bay will remain fenced off and act as a drop off area for any materials being delivered to site for final completion works for Anzac Station.

Up to date information on these works, the associated road closures and all other Anzac Station works can be found at bigbuild.vic.gov.au/projects/metro-tunnel/stations/anzac/current-works
