Agenda

Monday, 18 September

8.00am–4.00pm ecologiQ Site Tour

Three immersive site tours visiting innovative and forward thinking recycled material suppliers, infrastructure projects and research facilities across Melbourne. Tickets sold separately.

Plastics in infrastructure

Travel across Melbourne to learn about the many ways plastic can be recycled into construction materials.

Civil

Visit manufacturing facilities, laboratories and projects to see the many ways recycled materials are being used to build some of Melbourne's biggest infrastructure projects.

Built environment

See how innovative and sustainable materials are being used in the urban realm.

4.00pm Trade hall opens

4.45pm Networking drinks and canapes

5.15pm Welcome to Country

5.20pm ecologiQ welcome

- Alexis Davison – Executive Director Engineering and Program Services, Major Road Projects Victoria

5.30pm Official opening

- Duncan Elliott – Chief Executive Officer, Major Road Projects Victoria

5.45pm MP address

- Josh Bull MP – Parliamentary Secretary for Transport and Level Crossing Removal

6.00pm Panel: A celebration of some of our 2022 success stories

There are considerable performance benefits to plastic and rubber products, making it vital we develop processes and use policy to overcome barriers to its widespread use in infrastructure construction.

- Alexis Davison – Executive Director Engineering and Program Services, Major Road Projects Victoria (moderator)
- Chris Smith – Territory Manager Victoria, Replas
- Steve Betinsky – General Manager Employment and Enterprises, OC Connections

6.30pm Networking

Including drinks and canapes

7.00pm Trade hall close

Tuesday, 19 September

Plenary Stage

7:30am Registration opens

8.00am Networking breakfast

9.00am MC welcome and acknowledgement of country

- Professor Veena Sahajwalla – Founding Director, Centre for Sustainable Materials Research & Technology, University of NSW

9.15am Keynote: How Victoria's Big Build is fuelling demand and charting progress

Victoria's transport infrastructure projects have made huge strides in the use of recycled materials since 2020 – but we still face some great challenges. The Victorian Government is imploring industry to take further steps towards a greener future.

- Kevin Devlin – Director-General, Major Transport Infrastructure Authority

9.40am Fireside chat: Recycled First – the story behind the data

The data is telling us that the Recycled First Policy has proven to be a powerful mechanism for change. But there are still some common misconceptions. Alexis will pull back the curtain on some of the popular myths about recycled materials and how this is impacting greater use of recycled materials across infrastructure projects.

- Alexis Davison – Executive Director, Engineering and Program Services Major Road Projects Victoria with Professor Veena Sahajwalla

10.00am Keynote: Supplying a solution in Australia's ongoing waste crisis

Road and rail infrastructure projects make their mark on communities and our environment in many ways, but the war on waste is far from over. Recycled materials are critical to winning the battle, and the industry must respond by creating strong supply chains and refining manufacturing processes to meet the demand created by government policies such as Recycled First.

- Craig Reucassel – ABC's War on Waste program host

10:30am Morning tea and networking

11:00am MC welcome back

11.05am Keynote: Victoria's waste and recycling sector – supporting use of recycled materials in infrastructure

- Tony Circelli – Head, Recycling Victoria

11.25am Panel: Do plastic and rubber products make sense?

There are considerable performance benefits to plastic and rubber products, making it vital we develop processes and use policy to overcome barriers to its widespread use in infrastructure construction.

- Craig Reucassel – ABC's War on Waste program host (moderator)
 - Dr Deborah Lau – Ending Plastic Waste Lead, CSIRO
 - Lina Goodman – Chief Executive Officer, Tyre Stewardship Australia
 - Stuart Neilson – Head of Strategy, Enviromesh

Tuesday, 19 September

12.10pm Panel: Navigating the pathway to successful use of recycled products on projects

The first 'yes' to integrating an innovative product on a project is the toughest. We explore how collaboration between asset owner, delivery team, contractor and supplier can make it happen.

- Lissa van Camp – Executive General Manager, LPES, Suburban Rail Loop Authority (moderator)
 - Matthew James – CEO and Managing Director, Envra, representing Polyrok
 - Bo Christensen – Sustainability Manager, McConnell Dowell, Western Program Alliance
 - John Scaife – Advisor, MTM and V/Line

1:00pm Lunch and networking

2:00pm MC welcome back

2:05pm Keynote: The role of recycled materials in building resilience against climate risk and achieving sustainable socio-economic systems

The Green Africa Youth Organization is having an incredible environmental, economic and social impact as they lead Africa's shift to a circular economy. Australia can draw inspiration from this move which applies grassroots initiatives to large scale infrastructure.

- Betty Osei Bonsu – Uganda Country Manager, Green Africa Youth Organization

2:25pm Panel: Recycled First – benefits beyond optimising use of recycled materials

From social enterprises creating meaningful work for people with disabilities to saving costs on a project, the benefits of waste-to-resource materials are immense.

- Terence Jeyaretnam – Partner, Ernst & Young (moderator)
 - Betty Osei Bonsu – Uganda Country Manager, Green Africa Youth Organization
 - Steve Betinsky – General Manager Employment & Enterprises, OC Connections
 - Yasmin Grigaliunas – Chief Executive Officer, Circonomy (World's Biggest Garage Sale)
 - Dr Joe Pickin – Director, Blue Environment

3.10pm Panel: Regional benefits and embracing circular economy

Australia's regional areas have unique opportunities and challenges in how they can manufacture and use recycled materials. Local government has a key role in this and some excellent examples of innovation.

- Matt Genever – Chief Executive Officer, Sustainability Victoria (moderator)
 - Glenn Gillan – General Manager, Plasgain
 - Terry Kay – Managing Director, RPM Pipes
 - Scott Bryant – Circular Economy Coordinator, City of Greater Bendigo Council
 - Peter Murphy – Managing Director, Alex Fraser

4:00pm MC closing remarks

4:05pm Afternoon tea and networking

5:00pm Conference close

Trade Hall

7:30am Registration and trade hall open

8.00am Networking breakfast

10:30am Morning Tea

11:00am Trade hall MC welcome and introduction to ecologiQ

- Duy Le – Industry Manager, ecologiQ

11.10am Fireside chat: Infrastructure procurement 101

The complexity of infrastructure projects should not be a barrier to entry for suppliers. This session explores and defines procurement models, how tenders are awarded as well as how suppliers are engaged and the role and remit of asset owners.

- Steve Cornish – Executive Program Director, Major Road Projects Victoria
 - Lisa Kinross – Chief Executive Officer, Civil Contractors Federation Victoria

11.40am Presentation: How to – standards, specs and testing

Technical know-how is essential to getting any product into a project. Delve into where these requirements can be found, how they are developed and how and why to access National Association for Testing Authorities (NATA) accredited labs.

- Petar Davcev – Senior Technology Leader, Sustainability and Materials Performance, Portfolio Leader – Materials Performance and Testing, NTRO
 - David Barton – Chief Engineer, Department of Transport and Planning

12.00pm Fireside chat: Clean waste streams: the key to recyclability

'Clean waste' may sound like an oxymoron, but it is an essential part of the recycling and reuse process. Hear about waste classification and how it relates to feedstocks as well as common hazards and risks and how waste reprocessors manage it.

- Mark Bannister – Manager, Waste and Land Policy, Environment Protection Authority Victoria
 - John McCluskey – General Manager Commercial, Repurpose It

12.20pm Panel: The benefits of Environmental Product Declarations (EPDs) and Life Cycle Assessments (LCAs)

Delve into what these reports are, why they matter and the role they play in asset lifecycle value. Better understand the cost and benefits, and hear from a supplier who has undertaken the process.

- Stephen Mitchell – Director Advocacy and Marketing, EPD Australasia
 - Ross Brookshaw – Sustainability Manager, North East Link North Alliance
 - Adrian Cahill – Technical Services Manager, RCPA

1:00pm Lunch and networking

Tuesday, 19 September

Trade Hall: continued

2:00pm MC welcome back

2.05pm Panel: Recycled product requirements – an asset owner’s perspective

Hear from asset owners on all aspects of the approval process – from what needs approval, why and from whom. The design life and trials and validation process will also be detailed.

- Dr Scott Taylor – Director Engineering and Innovation, Major Road Projects Victoria (moderator)
 - Emma Miller-Olsen – Associate Director West Gate Bridge, Department of Transport and Planning
 - Maurice Serruto – Unit Manager Engineering Design & Construction, City of Whittlesea
 - Ian Ward – Associate Director and Victorian Projects Rail Sector Leader, TSA Management

2.45pm Getting investment ready

As we progress to a circular economy, companies are in a constant state of change, from start-up to commercialisation to expansion. Deepen your understanding of the assistance services available throughout this process, including avenues for funding, navigation of government, and potential collaborative prospects.

- Lauren Rowett – Industry Support Officer, ecologiQ (moderator)
 - Dr Phil Gurney – Director, Clean Economy, Breakthrough Victoria
 - Kristy Meeuwsen – Team Leader Recycling Markets Acceleration, Industry and Infrastructure, Sustainability Victoria
 - Ciaran O'Connor – Team Leader Infrastructure Investment, Sustainability Victoria

3.15pm Sustainability Victoria’s Recycled Product Showcase

Hear about three exciting products that turn ‘waste’ into value added products, and their journey from R&D to application supported by Sustainability Victoria’s Market Acceleration Program.

- Kristy Meeuwsen – Team Leader Recycling Markets Acceleration, Industry and Infrastructure, Sustainability Victoria
 - Ciaran O'Connor – Team Leader Infrastructure Investment, Sustainability Victoria

3.45pm Next generation recycled materials in railways

- Professor Ravi Ravitharan – Director Monash IRT

4.05pm Afternoon tea and networking

4.15pm Product spotlight: Recycled plastic and end of life tyres

Fast-paced elevator pitches from suppliers of recycled plastic and end of life tyre products who are exhibiting in the trade hall.

- Duy Le – Industry manager, ecologiQ
 - Lauren Rowett – Industry Support Officer, ecologiQ

Wednesday, 20 September

Plenary Stage

7:30am Registration opens

8:00am Networking breakfast

9.00am MC welcome

9.10am Ministerial address

Minister Ingrid Stitt MP – Minister for Environment

9.25am Keynote: The catalysing role of infrastructure construction in delivering a circular economy

Australia's efforts to map demand for infrastructure construction materials highlight that Australia cannot rely on virgin products, and Victoria is leading the way when it comes to finding sustainable alternatives.

- Jim Betts – Secretary, Department of Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development, Communications and the Arts

9.45am Panel: Creating the scale needed for strong supply chains

Australia is spending billions on social infrastructure, spurring a huge opportunity to further optimise the use of circular materials. Regional projects are also playing a key role in building local supply chains.

- Dr Dominique Hes – Director, Zero Carbon Buildings City of Melbourne and Ministerial Advisory Council (moderator)
 - Dr Jonathan Spear – Chief Executive Officer, Infrastructure Victoria
 - Tiernan Humphreys – Acting Director Technical Advisory Services, Victorian Health Building Authority
 - Ken Long – Regional Sustainability Director, VIC and SA, Lendlease
 - Kelly Macmorran – Project Director, Design, Development Victoria

10:30am Morning tea and networking

11.00am MC welcome back

11.10am Panel: Recycled materials as the first step to circular infrastructure

The Federal Government has given clear direction that recycling is vital in moving to a circular economy. We explore how Australian jurisdictions are making progress and overcoming roadblocks.

- Ainsley Simpson, Chief Executive Officer, Infrastructure Sustainability Council (moderator)
 - Adam Copp – Chief Executive Officer, Infrastructure Australia
 - Kylie Hughes – Executive Director, Waste Policy and Legislation, Department of Environment and Science, QLD
 - Camilla Drover – Deputy Secretary, Infrastructure and Place, Transport for New South Wales
 - David Alexander – Director of Waste Policy, ACT Government

12.00pm Circular Design – turning ambition into action

Design choices can lock up 70% of the environmental impact of infrastructure across its life cycle. This highlights just how crucial it is to utilise new design approaches and tools that consider circularity and material choices.

- Lisa McLean – Chief Executive Officer, Circular Australia
 - Jodie Bricout – Principal, Sustainability and Climate Change, Aurecon Australasia

Wednesday, 20 September

12:40pm Reinterpreting value and the benefits of reuse

Reusing and retrofitting infrastructure assets can have immense economic benefits as it leads to construction cost and borrowing finance savings for government and asset owners.

- Kathleen Bainbridge – Associate, Elenberg Fraser
 - Reade Dixon – Principal, Elenberg Fraser

1.00pm Lunch and networking

1.55pm MC welcome back

2.00pm Keynote: Building purposefully greener infrastructure – practical steps on the path ahead

Circular infrastructure can support Victoria's net zero commitments. The hard truth is we can't get there without it. It's a balance between nature, materials and carbon.

- Romilly Madew – Chief Executive Officer, Engineers Australia

2.30pm Panel: Building purposefully greener infrastructure – international perspectives

Australia's shift to a circular economy is taking us down a path that other nations and communities have traversed before. There are plenty of lessons to be learnt as we optimise our resources by keeping products in use at the highest possible value.

- Dr Nicole Garofano – Head of Circular Economy Development, Planet Ark (moderator)
 - Mike Evans – Global Highways and European Transport Lead, ARUP
 - Wayne Hubbard – Chief Executive Officer, ReLondon
 - Amelia Burnett – Associate Director, InfraTech Program, Global Infrastructure Hub

3.20pm Keynote: Indigenous practices – critical knowledge source for building purposefully greener infrastructure

How we can learn from and collaborate with Indigenous communities, to document and scale their traditional technologies and practices to incorporate nature-based solutions into Victoria's 2032 CE targets.

- Hayden Heta – Managing Director, Wamarra

3.40pm MC concluding remarks and thank you

3.45pm Afternoon tea and networking

11.10am Sponsor presentation: Downer

- Graham Henderson – Pre Contracts and Development Manager, Downer, Transport and Infrastructure

11.20am Panel: A world of possibilities in a concrete world

Concrete is one of the most consumed and essential materials on earth. While historically it is a huge carbon emitter, the innovative Big Build concrete program aims to change that.

- Rhys Owen-Roberts – Senior Manager, Sustainable Infrastructure, Major Road Projects Victoria (moderator)
 - Brendan Liveris – National Sustainability Manager, Hanson
 - Mark Jackson – Sales & Business Development Manager, Civil, SVC Products
 - Stuart Neilson – Head of Strategy, Enviromesh

12.00pm Supplier spotlights

Hear from trade hall exhibitors on topics integral to their business and how they are using their enterprise for good.

- ‘How partnerships in a circular economy can drive infrastructure innovation in Australia’
Graeme Hall- Application Development Manager, Pact Group
 - ‘Measuring circularity for roads’ Steve Morriss – Head of Circular Economy, Close The Loop
 - ‘Sustainable social procurement’ Lucretia De Jong – Chief Executive Officer, Social Outcome Solutions
 - ‘Collaboration with Universities’ Stephen Webster – General Manager, Integrated Recycling
 - ‘Using recycled materials does not decrease quality’ Glenn Gillan – General Manager, Plasgain

12.50pm Sponsor presentation: Hanson

- Matthew Wilton – Offer Development and Transformation Manager, Hanson Australia

1.00pm Lunch and networking

2.00pm MC welcome back

2.05pm Supplier spotlights

Hear from trade hall exhibitors on topics integral to their business and how they are using their enterprise for good.

- ‘Integrated architectural engineering and construction management’
Daniel Prohasky – Co-Founder, Architectural Engineer, Curvecrete
 - ‘Innovating through sustainability’ Joe Barresi – Technical Sales Engineer, Vinidex

2.25pm Sponsor presentation: SPARK – the role of constructors in catalysing circularity

- Viv Heslop, Sustainability Manager, SPARK
 - Mia Deans, Sustainability Graduate, SPARK

2.45pm Open for Innovation

Building on the great success of the ecologiQ Innovation Showcase series, this live event will highlight innovative products ready for the next step – whether it is a demonstration project or a fellow supplier to partner with.

- Duy Le – Industry Manager, ecologiQ (moderator)
 - Shalini Trikha – Technical Manager, ecologiQ
 - Andrew Papacostas – Principal Engineer – Pavements & Materials, Assets & Engineering Division, Department of Transport and Planning
 - Shane Cooper – Engineer Manager Track and Civil, V/Line
